

Airraid Siren

Day and night, another flight, comes to you.
Delivering a deadly freight, made for high-tech warfare.
Loaded with bombs, over the limit, there is no escape.
Wait for my attack, say your prayers and get what you deserve.

Airraid siren. When it's time to die.
Airraid siren. You hear and cry.

I push my finger on the trigger, my bombs come down.
Like a rat in a hole, you wait for detonation
Ripped to pieces, burned to ashes, you will end.
Your last our has just begun, goodbye, dirty bastard.

Airraid siren. When it's time to die.
Airraid siren. You hear and cry.

I have set your small world on hellfire
Raging flames light up the dark, I've brought devastation.
Now it's over, time to look for some new prey.
I promise you, I will return to hunt the last survivors.

Airraid siren. When it's time to die.
Airraid siren. You hear and cry.
